The Bovirke Table

The Bovirke Table, designed by Finn Juhl in 1948, embodies a simple, elegant, and highly versatile design. Functionalism unites with aesthetics in this timeless dining table that is beautifully crafted at our wood workshop in Ringkøbing on the West Coast of Denmark. The table is crafted in either oak or walnut, or in a combination with an oak frame and walnut for the top and toes. Two extension leaves can be ordered for the extendable version. The table is also available in a non-extendable version. The frame is manufactured in solid wood and the table top and extension leaves are crafted in veneer or linoleum with solid edges.
